Northwest Vendor Corner

Lucky Hook Farm Moses Lake, WA.

If you buy your goat milk fresh you will be surprised at how little it differs from the taste of fresh cow's milk. Goat milk, when handled properly, has a wonderfully mild and sweet taste that most people enjoy. It has been said that sometimes those who don't tolerate cow's milk are able to drink goat's milk with no adverse effects.

The Lucky Hook Dairy Goats are healthy animals that have access to pesticide and herbicide free pastures of clover and mixed grasses during the spring, summer and fall months. They are also offered an alfalfa and grass mixed hay from pesticide and herbicide free fields on a free choice basis, throughout the year. Their animals are free of antibiotics, steroids, hormones and anything else that is un-natural. Their goats are treated with kindness and respect. Each animal has a unique personality and name.
